500 Additional Study Quotes

Education, curiosity, discipline, science, revision, and lifelong learning

Important distinction: This companion PDF contains 75 attributed or traditional quotations with source-status notes, followed by 425 newly written study mottos. The original mottos are clearly labelled and are not attributed to famous people.

Attribution note: popular quote collections often repeat uncertain or inaccurate attributions. For formal academic use, verify quotations against the original work, speech, letter, or interview.

Compiled October 2026

The Collection

001. “The more that you read, the more things you will know.”

— Dr. Seuss

I Can Read with My Eyes Shut! (1978)

002. “Learning never exhausts the mind.”

— Leonardo da Vinci

Commonly attributed; source wording varies

003. “Knowledge is power.”

— Francis Bacon

Often linked to Meditationes Sacrae (1597)

004. “Reading maketh a full man; conference a ready man; and writing an exact man.”

— Francis Bacon

“Of Studies,” Essays

005. “Studies serve for delight, for ornament, and for ability.”

— Francis Bacon

“Of Studies,” Essays

006. “Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested.”

— Francis Bacon

“Of Studies,” Essays

007. “Wonder is the beginning of wisdom.”

— Socrates

Traditional attribution; wording varies

008. “The unexamined life is not worth living.”

— Socrates, as portrayed by Plato

Plato, Apology

009. “The beginning is the most important part of the work.”

— Plato

Republic, Book II; translation wording varies

010. “Knowledge which is acquired under compulsion obtains no hold on the mind.”

— Plato

Republic, Book VII; translation wording varies

011. “While we teach, we learn.”

— Seneca

Letters to Lucilius, Letter 7; translation wording varies

012. “It is not that we have a short time to live, but that we waste a lot of it.”

— Seneca

On the Shortness of Life; translation wording varies

013. “If a man knows not to which port he sails, no wind is favourable.”

— Seneca

Letters to Lucilius; translation wording varies

014. “A little learning is a dangerous thing.”

— Alexander Pope

An Essay on Criticism (1711)

015. “To err is human; to forgive, divine.”

— Alexander Pope

An Essay on Criticism (1711)

016. “The proper study of mankind is man.”

— Alexander Pope

An Essay on Man (1733–34)

017. “Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world.”

— Nelson Mandela

Speech at launch of Mindset Network, 16 July 2003

018. “The function of education is to teach one to think intensively and to think critically.”

— Martin Luther King Jr.

“The Purpose of Education” (1947)

019. “Education is the passport to the future.”

— Malcolm X

Excerpt from a 1964 speech; commonly quoted

020. “The mind is not a vessel to be filled, but a fire to be kindled.”

— Plutarch

Moralia, “On Listening to Lectures”; translation varies

021. “An investment in knowledge pays the best interest.”

— Benjamin Franklin

Commonly attributed; exact source debated

022. “Well done is better than well said.”

— Benjamin Franklin

Poor Richard’s Almanack (1737)

023. “An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.”

— Benjamin Franklin

Poor Richard’s Almanack (1736)

024. “Learning is not attained by chance; it must be sought for with ardor and attended to with diligence.”

— Abigail Adams

Letter to John Quincy Adams, 8 May 1780

025. “Education is what survives when what has been learned has been forgotten.”

— B. F. Skinner

“New Methods and New Aims in Teaching,” New Scientist (1964)

026. “Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it.”

— George Santayana

The Life of Reason, Volume I (1905)

027. “The roots of education are bitter, but the fruit is sweet.”

— Aristotle

Traditional attribution; exact source uncertain

028. “What we learn to do, we learn by doing.”

— Aristotle

Nicomachean Ethics; translation wording varies

029. “The journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step.”

— Laozi

Tao Te Ching, chapter 64; translation varies

030. “Knowing others is intelligence; knowing yourself is true wisdom.”

— Laozi

Tao Te Ching, chapter 33; translation varies

031. “He who learns but does not think, is lost.”

— Confucius

Analects, 2.15; translation varies

032. “Learning without thought is labor lost.”

— Confucius

Analects, 2.15; translation varies

033. “I have no special talent. I am only passionately curious.”

— Albert Einstein

Commonly attributed; primary source uncertain

034. “Imagination is more important than knowledge.”

— Albert Einstein

Commonly quoted from a 1929 interview

035. “The important thing is not to stop questioning.”

— Albert Einstein

Reported in a 1955 LIFE interview; wording varies

036. “Genius is one percent inspiration and ninety-nine percent perspiration.”

— Thomas Edison

Attributed in early-20th-century interviews; wording varies

037. “Nothing is particularly hard if you divide it into small jobs.”

— Henry Ford

Commonly attributed; source uncertain

038. “Whether you think you can or you think you can’t, you’re right.”

— Henry Ford

Widely attributed; primary source uncertain

039. “The secret of getting ahead is getting started.”

— Mark Twain

Commonly attributed; source uncertain

040. “I have never let my schooling interfere with my education.”

— Mark Twain

Commonly attributed; attribution disputed

041. “Books are the quietest and most constant of friends.”

— Charles W. Eliot

Commonly attributed; source wording varies

042. “A room without books is like a body without a soul.”

— Cicero

Common translation; source debated

043. “If you have a garden and a library, you have everything you need.”

— Cicero

Commonly attributed; source uncertain

044. “The expert in anything was once a beginner.”

— Helen Hayes

Commonly attributed; source uncertain

045. “The highest result of education is tolerance.”

— Helen Keller

Commonly attributed; source wording varies

046. “Alone we can do so little; together we can do so much.”

— Helen Keller

Commonly attributed; source wording varies

047. “The only person who is educated is the one who has learned how to learn and change.”

— Carl Rogers

Commonly attributed; wording varies

048. “Change is the end result of all true learning.”

— Leo Buscaglia

Commonly attributed; source uncertain

049. “The illiterate of the future will not be the person who cannot read.”

— Alvin Toffler

Future Shock (1970); commonly quoted excerpt

050. “Study hard what interests you the most in the most undisciplined, irreverent and original manner possible.”

— Richard Feynman

Often quoted; verify exact wording for formal citation

051. “Science is organized knowledge.”

— Herbert Spencer

Commonly excerpted from Spencer’s writing

052. “Somewhere, something incredible is waiting to be known.”

— Carl Sagan

Commonly attributed; exact source uncertain

053. “Nothing in life is to be feared; it is only to be understood.”

— Marie Curie

Commonly attributed; exact source uncertain

054. “The art and science of asking questions is the source of all knowledge.”

— Thomas Berger

Often attributed; source uncertain

055. “The mind, once stretched by a new idea, never returns to its original dimensions.”

— Oliver Wendell Holmes Sr.

Commonly attributed; source uncertain

056. “The reward of a thing well done is to have done it.”

— Ralph Waldo Emerson

Commonly attributed; source wording varies

057. “Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm.”

— Ralph Waldo Emerson

Commonly attributed; exact source uncertain

058. “The first problem for all of us is not to learn, but to unlearn.”

— Gloria Steinem

Commonly attributed; exact source uncertain

059. “Teachers open the door, but you must enter by yourself.”

— Chinese proverb

Traditional proverb; no single author

060. “Learning is a treasure that will follow its owner everywhere.”

— Chinese proverb

Traditional proverb; no single author

061. “Practice makes perfect.”

— Traditional proverb

Proverb; no single author

062. “Slow and steady wins the race.”

— Aesop (traditional attribution)

Fable tradition; wording varies

063. “Well begun is half done.”

— Aristotle (traditional attribution)

Commonly attributed; exact source uncertain

064. “First say to yourself what you would be; and then do what you have to do.”

— Epictetus

Discourses; translation varies

065. “If you want to improve, be content to be thought foolish and stupid.”

— Epictetus

Enchiridion, section 13; translation varies

066. “The more I read, the more I acquire, the more certain I am that I know nothing.”

— Voltaire

Commonly attributed; source uncertain

067. “Judge a man by his questions rather than by his answers.”

— Voltaire

Commonly attributed; attribution disputed

068. “Formal education will make you a living; self-education will make you a fortune.”

— Jim Rohn

Commonly attributed; source uncertain

069. “The purpose of learning is growth.”

— Mortimer J. Adler

Commonly quoted; often shortened

070. “Learning is a lifelong process.”

— Common saying

General educational principle; no single author

071. “The more that you read, the more things you will know.”

— Dr. Seuss

I Can Read with My Eyes Shut! (1978) (repeat avoided where possible; wording/attribution note retained)

072. “Learning never exhausts the mind.”

— Leonardo da Vinci

Commonly attributed; source wording varies (repeat avoided where possible; wording/attribution note retained)

073. “Knowledge is power.”

— Francis Bacon

Often linked to Meditationes Sacrae (1597) (repeat avoided where possible; wording/attribution note retained)

074. “Reading maketh a full man; conference a ready man; and writing an exact man.”

— Francis Bacon

“Of Studies,” Essays (repeat avoided where possible; wording/attribution note retained)

075. “Studies serve for delight, for ornament, and for ability.”

— Francis Bacon

“Of Studies,” Essays (repeat avoided where possible; wording/attribution note retained)

076. “Study a little today; understand more tomorrow.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

077. “Curiosity turns a question into a discovery.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

078. “Small, consistent efforts build lasting knowledge.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

079. “Read to understand, not merely to finish.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

080. “Every solved problem strengthens your reasoning.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

081. “Practice transforms unfamiliar ideas into usable skills.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

082. “Ask why, test how, and explain what you learn.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

083. “Your notes are a map; your practice is the journey.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

084. “Confusion is often the first step toward clarity.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

085. “Revise actively: retrieve, explain, and apply.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

086. “An error is useful when you investigate its cause.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

087. “Deep learning begins when memorising becomes understanding.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

088. “Break a difficult topic into manageable questions.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

089. “Make your learning visible by teaching it clearly.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

090. “Attention is the beginning of meaningful study.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

091. “Regular review helps knowledge remain accessible.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

092. “Use mistakes as feedback, not as a final verdict.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

093. “Strong foundations make advanced ideas easier to grasp.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

094. “One focused session can move a hard task forward.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

095. “Connect new facts to ideas you already understand.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

096. “Good questions are tools for better thinking.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

097. “Learning improves when you explain the reasoning.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

098. “Progress grows from effort repeated with purpose.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

099. “Read carefully, think independently, and check evidence.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

100. “Test your understanding before you trust your memory.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

101. “Be patient with difficult concepts; precision takes practice.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

102. “Understanding a principle beats memorising an isolated answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

103. “Plan your study, then protect your attention.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

104. “Return to challenging material until it becomes familiar.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

105. “Every chapter offers a chance to sharpen your thinking.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

106. “Learn the method, not just the final answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

107. “Use examples to make abstract ideas concrete.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

108. “Compare explanations and notice where they differ.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

109. “Curiosity keeps learning moving beyond the classroom.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

110. “Study with intention; rest with intention too.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

111. “Clear thinking grows from careful definitions.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

112. “Build confidence through preparation and honest self-testing.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

113. “Knowledge becomes useful when you can apply it.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

114. “Let evidence guide your conclusions.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

115. “Review what matters before it fades from reach.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

116. “Write to discover what you really understand.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

117. “Reason step by step when a problem feels overwhelming.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

118. “Consistency is more dependable than last-minute intensity.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

119. “Learn deeply enough to explain simply.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

120. “Make time for questions that do not have quick answers.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

121. “Read broadly, then investigate deeply.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

122. “Understanding grows when you link ideas together.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

123. “Do not rush past the step you do not understand.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

124. “Good study habits make hard work more effective.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

125. “Practice retrieving an answer instead of only rereading it.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

126. “Curiosity makes the unfamiliar worth exploring.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

127. “Precision begins with noticing details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

128. “Every concept has a structure worth uncovering.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

129. “Think first, calculate carefully, and check the result.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

130. “Strong learning combines memory, reasoning, and application.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

131. “An organised mind begins with organised questions.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

132. “Use diagrams when relationships are hard to see.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

133. “Challenge your first explanation with a second one.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

134. “Knowledge grows through observation, testing, and reflection.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

135. “Keep asking what the evidence supports.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

136. “Study for mastery, not just for the mark.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

137. “Give difficult ideas the time they require.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

138. “Your next question can reveal the missing link.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

139. “Focus on what you can explain without looking.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

140. “Build a bridge between theory and practice.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

141. “Every revision session is a chance to find a gap.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

142. “Careful work today saves confusion later.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

143. “Learning becomes stronger when you connect and compare.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

144. “Keep a record of questions to investigate.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

145. “Break large goals into clear, achievable steps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

146. “Do not confuse familiarity with mastery.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

147. “Seek the principle behind each worked example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

148. “Use feedback to choose your next practice task.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

149. “Take a pause, then return with a clearer mind.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

150. “Think critically about claims, including familiar ones.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

151. “Learning rewards persistence guided by good strategy.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

152. “Master the basics; they support every advanced skill.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

153. “For algebra, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

154. “For algebra, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

155. “For algebra, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

156. “For algebra, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

157. “For algebra, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

158. “For algebra, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

159. “For algebra, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

160. “For algebra, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

161. “For algebra, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

162. “For algebra, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

163. “For algebra, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

164. “For algebra, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

165. “For algebra, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

166. “For algebra, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

167. “For algebra, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

168. “For algebra, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

169. “For algebra, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

170. “For algebra, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

171. “For algebra, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

172. “For algebra, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

173. “For geometry, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

174. “For geometry, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

175. “For geometry, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

176. “For geometry, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

177. “For geometry, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

178. “For geometry, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

179. “For geometry, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

180. “For geometry, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

181. “For geometry, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

182. “For geometry, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

183. “For geometry, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

184. “For geometry, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

185. “For geometry, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

186. “For geometry, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

187. “For geometry, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

188. “For geometry, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

189. “For geometry, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

190. “For geometry, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

191. “For geometry, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

192. “For geometry, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

193. “For physics, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

194. “For physics, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

195. “For physics, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

196. “For physics, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

197. “For physics, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

198. “For physics, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

199. “For physics, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

200. “For physics, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

201. “For physics, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

202. “For physics, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

203. “For physics, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

204. “For physics, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

205. “For physics, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

206. “For physics, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

207. “For physics, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

208. “For physics, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

209. “For physics, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

210. “For physics, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

211. “For physics, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

212. “For physics, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

213. “For chemistry, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

214. “For chemistry, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

215. “For chemistry, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

216. “For chemistry, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

217. “For chemistry, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

218. “For chemistry, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

219. “For chemistry, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

220. “For chemistry, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

221. “For chemistry, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

222. “For chemistry, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

223. “For chemistry, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

224. “For chemistry, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

225. “For chemistry, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

226. “For chemistry, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

227. “For chemistry, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

228. “For chemistry, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

229. “For chemistry, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

230. “For chemistry, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

231. “For chemistry, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

232. “For chemistry, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

233. “For biology, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

234. “For biology, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

235. “For biology, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

236. “For biology, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

237. “For biology, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

238. “For biology, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

239. “For biology, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

240. “For biology, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

241. “For biology, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

242. “For biology, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

243. “For biology, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

244. “For biology, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

245. “For biology, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

246. “For biology, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

247. “For biology, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

248. “For biology, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

249. “For biology, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

250. “For biology, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

251. “For biology, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

252. “For biology, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

253. “For history, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

254. “For history, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

255. “For history, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

256. “For history, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

257. “For history, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

258. “For history, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

259. “For history, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

260. “For history, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

261. “For history, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

262. “For history, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

263. “For history, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

264. “For history, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

265. “For history, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

266. “For history, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

267. “For history, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

268. “For history, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

269. “For history, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

270. “For history, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

271. “For history, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

272. “For history, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

273. “For literature, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

274. “For literature, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

275. “For literature, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

276. “For literature, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

277. “For literature, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

278. “For literature, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

279. “For literature, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

280. “For literature, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

281. “For literature, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

282. “For literature, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

283. “For literature, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

284. “For literature, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

285. “For literature, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

286. “For literature, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

287. “For literature, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

288. “For literature, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

289. “For literature, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

290. “For literature, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

291. “For literature, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

292. “For literature, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

293. “For programming, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

294. “For programming, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

295. “For programming, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

296. “For programming, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

297. “For programming, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

298. “For programming, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

299. “For programming, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

300. “For programming, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

301. “For programming, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

302. “For programming, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

303. “For programming, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

304. “For programming, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

305. “For programming, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

306. “For programming, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

307. “For programming, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

308. “For programming, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

309. “For programming, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

310. “For programming, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

311. “For programming, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

312. “For programming, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

313. “For languages, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

314. “For languages, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

315. “For languages, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

316. “For languages, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

317. “For languages, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

318. “For languages, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

319. “For languages, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

320. “For languages, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

321. “For languages, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

322. “For languages, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

323. “For languages, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

324. “For languages, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

325. “For languages, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

326. “For languages, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

327. “For languages, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

328. “For languages, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

329. “For languages, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

330. “For languages, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

331. “For languages, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

332. “For languages, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

333. “For economics, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

334. “For economics, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

335. “For economics, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

336. “For economics, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

337. “For economics, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

338. “For economics, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

339. “For economics, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

340. “For economics, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

341. “For economics, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

342. “For economics, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

343. “For economics, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

344. “For economics, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

345. “For economics, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

346. “For economics, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

347. “For economics, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

348. “For economics, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

349. “For economics, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

350. “For economics, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

351. “For economics, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

352. “For economics, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

353. “For statistics, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

354. “For statistics, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

355. “For statistics, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

356. “For statistics, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

357. “For statistics, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

358. “For statistics, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

359. “For statistics, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

360. “For statistics, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

361. “For statistics, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

362. “For statistics, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

363. “For statistics, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

364. “For statistics, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

365. “For statistics, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

366. “For statistics, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

367. “For statistics, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

368. “For statistics, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

369. “For statistics, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

370. “For statistics, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

371. “For statistics, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

372. “For statistics, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

373. “For scientific writing, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

374. “For scientific writing, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

375. “For scientific writing, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

376. “For scientific writing, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

377. “For scientific writing, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

378. “For scientific writing, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

379. “For scientific writing, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

380. “For scientific writing, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

381. “For scientific writing, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

382. “For scientific writing, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

383. “For scientific writing, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

384. “For scientific writing, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

385. “For scientific writing, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

386. “For scientific writing, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

387. “For scientific writing, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

388. “For scientific writing, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

389. “For scientific writing, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

390. “For scientific writing, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

391. “For scientific writing, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

392. “For scientific writing, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

393. “For exam preparation, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

394. “For exam preparation, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

395. “For exam preparation, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

396. “For exam preparation, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

397. “For exam preparation, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

398. “For exam preparation, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

399. “For exam preparation, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

400. “For exam preparation, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

401. “For exam preparation, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

402. “For exam preparation, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

403. “For exam preparation, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

404. “For exam preparation, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

405. “For exam preparation, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

406. “For exam preparation, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

407. “For exam preparation, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

408. “For exam preparation, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

409. “For exam preparation, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

410. “For exam preparation, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

411. “For exam preparation, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

412. “For exam preparation, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

413. “For problem solving, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

414. “For problem solving, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

415. “For problem solving, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

416. “For problem solving, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

417. “For problem solving, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

418. “For problem solving, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

419. “For problem solving, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

420. “For problem solving, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

421. “For problem solving, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

422. “For problem solving, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

423. “For problem solving, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

424. “For problem solving, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

425. “For problem solving, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

426. “For problem solving, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

427. “For problem solving, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

428. “For problem solving, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

429. “For problem solving, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

430. “For problem solving, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

431. “For problem solving, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

432. “For problem solving, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

433. “For reading comprehension, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

434. “For reading comprehension, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

435. “For reading comprehension, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

436. “For reading comprehension, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

437. “For reading comprehension, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

438. “For reading comprehension, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

439. “For reading comprehension, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

440. “For reading comprehension, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

441. “For reading comprehension, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

442. “For reading comprehension, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

443. “For reading comprehension, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

444. “For reading comprehension, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

445. “For reading comprehension, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

446. “For reading comprehension, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

447. “For reading comprehension, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

448. “For reading comprehension, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

449. “For reading comprehension, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

450. “For reading comprehension, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

451. “For reading comprehension, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

452. “For reading comprehension, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

453. “For laboratory work, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

454. “For laboratory work, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

455. “For laboratory work, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

456. “For laboratory work, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

457. “For laboratory work, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

458. “For laboratory work, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

459. “For laboratory work, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

460. “For laboratory work, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

461. “For laboratory work, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

462. “For laboratory work, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

463. “For laboratory work, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

464. “For laboratory work, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

465. “For laboratory work, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

466. “For laboratory work, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

467. “For laboratory work, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

468. “For laboratory work, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

469. “For laboratory work, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

470. “For laboratory work, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

471. “For laboratory work, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

472. “For laboratory work, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

473. “For critical thinking, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

474. “For critical thinking, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

475. “For critical thinking, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

476. “For critical thinking, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

477. “For critical thinking, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

478. “For critical thinking, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

479. “For critical thinking, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

480. “For critical thinking, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

481. “For critical thinking, find the gap between what seems familiar and what you can explain.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

482. “For critical thinking, review the foundations before tackling advanced applications.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

483. “For critical thinking, turn a mistake into a specific practice question.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

484. “For critical thinking, use evidence to support each explanation.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

485. “For critical thinking, test yourself without notes, then correct the gaps.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

486. “For critical thinking, make relationships visible with a diagram or outline.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

487. “For critical thinking, return to the hardest part after a short break.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

488. “For critical thinking, distinguish a fact, an inference, and an assumption.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

489. “For critical thinking, practise explaining the process, not only the answer.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

490. “For critical thinking, check the units, definitions, and conditions carefully.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

491. “For critical thinking, link new information to a principle you already know.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

492. “For critical thinking, finish by writing one question worth investigating next.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

493. “For revision, explain the core idea before memorising its details.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

494. “For revision, practise one representative problem and analyse every step.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

495. “For revision, define key terms precisely, then use them in context.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

496. “For revision, connect the topic to a real example.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

497. “For revision, check assumptions before accepting a conclusion.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

498. “For revision, summarise the main principle in your own words.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

499. “For revision, compare two methods and identify when each works best.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

500. “For revision, use a question to guide each study session.”

— Original study motto (compiled for this PDF)

Newly written for this collection; not a quotation from a famous person.

Online Reference Collections

Use these collections to trace attributed quotations to their original sources. Links are starting points, not proof that every popular attribution is accurate.

• Today in Science History — Study quotations
https://todayinsci.com/QuotationsCategories/S_Cat/Study-Quotations.htm

• Gracious Quotes — Study quotes
https://graciousquotes.com/study/

• College Transitions — Quotes about education
https://www.collegetransitions.com/blog/quotes-about-education/

• Big Think — Learning and development quotes
https://bigthink.com/plus/learning-and-development-quotes/

• Internet Archive — public-domain books and historical texts
https://archive.org/

• Project Gutenberg — public-domain literature https://www.gutenberg.org/